

The Millennium Falcon

"A piece of junk", "Bucket of bolts", "That thing", and "The fastest hunk of junk in the galaxy", the Millennium Falcon always breaks down at the wrong time, yet always comes through in the end. Capable of point five past lightspeed, she made the Kessel run in less than twelve parsecs, outran Imperial starships, escaped Imperial blockades, dodged through asteroid fields, and played a prominent role in the destruction of two

Death Stars. In the words of her captain, Han Solo, "She may not look like much, but she's got it where it counts."
